IN GARRISON FINISH HOME

When Springfield Apparently Had Upper Hand Orators Got a Move on.

Disgrunted fans who left the game sterday at Newfield in the early inngs were a sore lot last evening en they heard that the Orators by gala finish had smothered the Ponby the score of 5-4. Up to the th Springfield had the contest 4-2, it the home boys got to Sam Mcan, the pride of Glastonbury, for ninth Springfield had the contest 4-2, but the home boys got to Sam McLean, the pride of Glastorbury, for four hits, a pass and two sacrifices, all of which was enough to win the contest, and send the faithful fan home with a Steeplechase smile beaming all over his countenance. Up to that faial ninth for the Ponies, the fame went along leisurely for both teams, dumb plays being thrown in here and there, but neither team seemed to take advantage of the gifts. Perhaps it was the sticky weather which held the players back; anyhow, they played as if they did not want to exert themselves. All through the same rain fell, but not enough for Umpire O'Brien to call the contest. The Ordiors had the game at the end of the fifth when it did rain a little harder than usual, but there was no let up. In the sixth the Ponies forged ahead amidst the groans of the grand-tand. It looked like the game for them as Sam McLean was beginning to tighten up, though he did not stay that way very long. The sun broke through the clouds at the end of the ninth, just for the sake of seeing a victory perch on the banner of the Orators. The game:

Both teams scored in the opening session. Springfield, first at bat, on two hits and an out gathered in the first run. The Orators fared the same at their turn at bat, on a single and adorble. Bridgeport went ahead in the fourth on two hits, with a sacrifice and where the ball on a bound at Hill who covered the bag, and both tunners were safe. Connor followed with another bunt, which Reily fielded to Miller at third, Rising beating the throw. There were three on with none out, and it looked as if Reily was all to the Orville Wright. As Belly was winding up to throw the sphere to Miller. Umpire O'Brien called the play a balk, which was quite vident, and Rising walked home with the tighn score. The other two men walked up a base, but the next three men could not bring them around, as Reily was pitching in rare form. It was in the seventh that the agony was renewed. Waite doubled and scored on Schmaltr'

In the ninth inning Ladd wantoped to center, followed by a single into it by Miller. On Bunyan's attempt ascrificing Ladd was thrown out at third by McLean. Oswald Schmaltz as on deck, unloading a single into ight, scoring Miller from second, here was a general suspense as cother was at the bat. The kid had we strikes and three balls on him, and then fouled all the straight ones hat McLean could put over. This set Mac in a hole and he gave Kocher is base on a gift, filling the bases. Candy' Kane was sent in to bat for celly, and lived up to his rep by tearing off a Texas Leaguer over second asse, on which Bunyan raced in with he fleing score. The fans were jubiant as it has been many a day since such a finish has been seen at old sewfield. Steinhauser raised a high by to Luby in right. With the catching of the ball Schmaltz ran in from hird getting home just as the sphere younced into Joe Conner's mit, but ones to the plate with the winning run. The score: BRIDGEPORT.

Al O'Dell who filled in at third base for the Orators a few years back is covering the outfield and third for Pop Foster's Reading club. Al has taken Jack Lelivelt's place in the outfield, that player having been sold to the Washington Americans. Al's play has caused the Reading fans to almost forget that there was ever such a player get that there was ever such a player as Lelivelt.

At the Flats, the South Ends and North Ends will clash in the rubber game of their series, each club having defeated the other. Nick Carter and Mike Lucia will be the South End battery and Bill Jag-gers and Honus Meerback the North End workers.

Over at the Meadows, the Newfield will meet up with the recently organized National club. The latter have been keeping their batting order a secret, intending to spring a surprise on the ever advancing Newfields. Splendid Sea Pageant

At Isle of Wight

(Special from United Press.)

Cowes Isle of Wight, Eng. July 21.—
The thousands of people who have gathered here for the yacht race Monday were introduced to a splendid sea pageant today when King Edward on the royal yacht reveiwed the great English squardron here to greet the Czar and Czarina when they arrive Monday. One hundred and fifty three of England's classic warshps are gathered in the harbor and they restricted.

of England's classic warshps are gathered in the harbor and they represented a magnificent spectacle with bunting flying and guns booming salutes while sailors presented arms as the King's yacht passed them. The 153 ships were gathered in two long lines while the third line was made up of wicked looking torpedo boats. The gathering of the great war fleet, it is said, was for the dual purpose of impressing the Czar and endeavoring to have him place orders for Russian warships in England. Added to the great naval pageant, there are hundreds of yachts, sloops and yawls in the harbor ready to take and yawls in the harbor ready to take part in the yacht race Monday.

O'Rourke is really said to be in search of some first-class men and is willing to pay them salaries much above what he has been in the habit of giving. He realizes that the only way that he can win back support at home is by putting a first-class club on the field. He is casting about now for new material and in a week or more may have a team that will be capable of holding a much better position that the present one occupied by the Orators.—

Bullards are confident of beating Birdsey Somers, Saturday, at Wheeler's lot, Finn, Bullard's star, will pitch, and Hogg catch. Kelly and Waugh will be the battery for Birdsey Somers.
